

Heinrich Christen

Born 1965, Swiss citizen

Heinrich Christen is a partner at BLR & Partners Ltd. in Zurich (CH). Before joining BLR & Partners in 2019, he held various positions at Ernst & Young (CH). Among other responsibilities, he was Managing Partner Family Business Switzerland and Liechtenstein and Industry Leader Medical Devices Industry EMEA. From 1993 until 1997, he held the position of Head of Public Affairs + PR and was a Member of the Executive Committee of the two Swiss associations ASM/VSM (today Swissmem). Heinrich Christen is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Swiss companies AMAG Group AG, KIBAG Group and B. Curti Holding and Chairman of the Board of Directors of CP Pumpen AG. He is on the Board of Directors of the Swiss Institute of International Studies (SIAF) and the Association of Private Joint Stock Companies (VPAG), a member of the Foundation Board of the Textile Museum St. Gallen and the Curti Foundation, as well as a member of the European Trilateral Commission and the "Freedom. Entrepreneurship. Policy" Foundation. Heinrich Christen holds a title lic. phil. I in Philosophy, International Law, European Law and Modern History from the University of Zurich (CH), with further studies in Konstanz (GER) and Stanford (USA). He also holds an Executive MBA from the University of St. Gallen (HSG).